A. PERSONNEL

Ehsan Mohammadi, Ph.D., Principal Investigator (2.22% effort - .07 summer months)
Dr. Mohammadi will provide overall direction and oversight for the project, including coordinating partner engagement, supervising the development of educational content and survey instruments, and guiding the evaluation process. He will lead the dissemination of results and ensure the alignment of project goals with the Network of the National Library of Medicine (NNLM) Region 2's mission. He will also supervise the Graduate Assistant's work. $$10,139.78 \times .2 = $2,028 \times 32.97\% \text{ fringe} = \669 for a total of $2,697)

Samaneh Borji, Graduate Assistant (100% effort = 3 Calendar Months)
Ms. Borji, a Ph.D. student in Information Science, will manage the day-to-day operations of the project. Her responsibilities will include coordinating and facilitating educational workshops, designing and distributing health literacy materials, managing participant recruitment and communication, and supporting survey data collection and analysis. She will also contribute to the development of short educational videos and lead post-program outreach and reporting. $($20 \text{ hr} \times 20 \text{ hrs per week} \times 12 \text{ weeks} = $4,800 \times .40\% \text{ fringe} = $19)$ for a total of $4,819.

B. SUPPLIES – $2,000

Funds are requested to print toolkits and handouts for workshop participants. Materials will include plain-language guides on using MedlinePlus, evaluating AI-generated health information, and nutrition literacy. Toolkits will be used during the workshops and available to community partners for future use.

C. TRAVEL

A total of $450 is requested for travel within South Carolina to facilitate in-person workshops at libraries, clinics, or other community partner locations. This includes mileage reimbursement for the Graduate Assistant and/or PI using personal vehicles, based on the university-approved mileage rate. No out-of-state or overnight travel is planned.

D. OTHER DIRECT COSTS

Reproduction (Video Production and Editing) – $2,000

Funding will support the production of a 3-part short video series highlighting key skills in identifying health misinformation, using trusted resources, and applying AI literacy in health decision-making. These videos will be shown during workshops and shared publicly for sustained impact.

Participant Incentives - $1,500

Gift cards totaling $1,500 will be provided as incentives to participants who complete both the pre- and post-program surveys. A maximum of 60 participants will each receive a $25 gift card. These incentives aim to encourage full participation and reduce barriers to engagement, especially for underserved individuals.

Communications – $1,235

This category includes expenses related to publicizing the program through print flyers, social media ads, and community newsletters. Communication efforts will help recruit participants and raise awareness about the value of MedlinePlus and evidence-based health literacy.

E. INDIRECT COSTS

Indirect costs are calculated at a 36% Modified Total Direct Cost (MTDC) rate, resulting in $5,292.

Project Title: Battle for Better Health: Using Health Literacy and AI to Tackle Obesity in South Carolina

The goals of this project are to improve health information literacy among adults with obesity in South Carolina, increase their ability to critically evaluate AI-generated health content, and promote the use of trusted resources such as MedlinePlus for making informed nutrition and health decisions. The project will engage participants through interactive workshops, printed toolkits, and short educational videos to build skills in identifying misinformation and navigating reliable online health information. By partnering with local libraries and medical clinics, this initiative aims to reach medically underserved populations and reduce health disparities through accessible, evidence-based education.

A. Personal Statement

I am a Ph.D. student in Information Science at the University of South Carolina with a strong interdisciplinary background in computer science, health information behavior, and AI-based research. My current work focuses on the intersection of health literacy, artificial intelligence, and public health communication. I am particularly interested in how underserved populations interact with AI-generated health content and the risks of misinformation in digital environments. I have experience designing community-focused health information outreach, conducting qualitative and quantitative research, and developing educational tools for information literacy. I am committed to advancing equitable access to trustworthy health information and believe this project—focused on promoting MedlinePlus and teaching AI literacy skills to adults with obesity—will directly support those goals.

C. Contributions to Science

1. Health Information Behavior and Literacy

I investigate how individuals seek, evaluate, and use health information. My work explores strategies to increase awareness of trusted resources such as improving digital literacy among at-risk populations.

2. Artificial Intelligence and Public Health

As a research assistant in the AI and AGI Lab, I contribute to studies assessing the reliability of AI-generated health content. I examine how tools like ChatGPT are perceived and used by both general users and healthcare professionals, and how AI can both support and harm decision-making in health contexts.

3. Nutrition Misinformation on Social Media

I conduct social media-based research to analyze the spread of misinformation about food and nutrition. My current project includes interviews with parents about how they seek feeding information for young children and whether they trust online or AI-generated guidance.

4. Digital Preservation and Information Archiving

My Master’s thesis proposed a model for archiving social media content. I have published in peer-reviewed journals and presented at international conferences on the importance of preserving digital health-related content for future access and research.

SECTION III: GENERAL

A. LIMITATIONS:

The rates in this Agreement are subject to any statutory or administrative limitations and apply to a given grant, contract or other agreement only to the extent that funds are available. Acceptance of the rates is subject to the following conditions: (1) Only costs incurred by the organization were included in its indirect cost pool as finally accepted: such costs are legal obligations of the organization and are allowable under the governing cost principles; (2) The same costs that have been treated as indirect costs are not claimed as direct costs; (3) Similar types of costs have been accorded consistent accounting treatment; and (4) The information provided by the organization which was used to establish the rates is not later found to be materially incomplete or inaccurate by the Federal Government. In such situations the rate(s) would be subject to renegotiation at the discretion of the Federal Government.

B. ACCOUNTING CHANGES:

This Agreement is based on the accounting system purported by the organization to be in effect during the Agreement period. Changes to the method of accounting for costs which affect the amount of reimbursement resulting from the use of this Agreement require prior approval of the authorized representative of the cognizant agency. Such changes include, but are not limited to, changes in the charging of a particular type of cost from indirect to direct. Failure to obtain approval may result in cost disallowances.

C. FIXED RATES:

If a fixed rate is in this Agreement, it is based on an estimate of the costs for the period covered by the rate. When the actual costs for this period are determined, an adjustment will be made to a rate of a future year(s) to compensate for the difference between the costs used to establish the fixed rate and actual costs.

D. USE BY OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES:

The rates in this Agreement were approved in accordance with the authority in Title 2 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 200 (2 CFR 200), and should be applied to grants, contracts and other agreements covered by 2 CFR 200, subject to any limitations in A above. The organization may provide copies of the Agreement to other Federal Agencies to give them early notification of the Agreement.

E. OTHER:

If any Federal contract, grant or other agreement is reimbursing indirect costs by a means other than the approved rate(s) in this Agreement, the organization should (1) credit such costs to the affected programs, and (2) apply the approved rate(s) to the appropriate base to identify the proper amount of indirect costs allocable to these programs.
